CURRENT COURSES

“The Voice of Authority”

Originally commissioned by REED training.

This day-long course is practical and wide-ranging, encouraging you to get more from your voice and get better results when you speak.

If you need to sound confident, at ease and authoritative without sounding aggressive, this is for you.

“Leadership — a New Perspective on Power”

Originally commissioned by Lewisham Council and also run widely by the Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea.

This one-day workshop focuses on the idea that ease and having nothing to prove are at the heart of self-confidence.

“Creating Positive Personal Impact”

Run by the Institute of Management and The Improvement and Development Agency (IDeA) amongst others.

This one-day course is for anyone who needs to achieve results without forfeiting goodwill.

It is designed to make you memorable both because you communicated (which includes listening) with honesty and generosity and because your objectives were crystal clear and will lead to action.
